

Great Neck Septa (C.H.I.L.D) invites you to join us!

BEHAVIOR MANAGEMENT: WHY DOES MY CHILD DO THAT?

Don't miss this highly informative seminar!

Tuesday, April 5th @ 7:30pm
South High School

This discussion will be led by Dana Slackman MS Ed, BCBA, LBA, TSHH. She is a Behavioral Consultant and parent trainer to the Great Neck Public Schools and also runs Dana Slackman Licensed Behavior Analyst P.C. (Commack, NY)

Children have a reason to behave the way that they do. Our children engage in millions of different behaviors each day. The reasons or functions for doing these different behaviors fall into four main categories.

Mrs. Slackman will discuss the four main functions that lead our children to continue and maintain their behaviors. She will also discuss ways that parents and caregivers can identify these reasons or functions so that they can address behaviors in a more effective way.

Remember.....Involved parents ensure the best results for our children!
